Embassy advises Indians to leave Ukraine temporarily

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 15 February

India on Tuesday advised its citizens in Ukraine to temporarily leave that country amid escalating tension between Moscow and the NATO countries over Russia's increasing military build-up close to the Ukrainian border.

In an advisory, the Indian embassy in Kyiv asked Indian nationals to avoid all non-essential travel to and within Ukraine.

"In view of the uncertainties of the current situation in Ukraine, Indian nationals in Ukraine, particularly students whose stay is not essential, may consider leaving temporarily," it said.

"Indian nationals are also advised to avoid all non-essential travel to and within Ukraine," the embassy said.

know. According to an official document in 2020, Ukraine had a small but vibrant Indian community and there were about 18,000 Indian students studying in that country. The data is likely to vary in view of the pandemic.

In the advisory, the Indian embassy in Ukraine also asked Indian nationals to keep it informed about their status to enable the mission to reach out to them when required.

It said the mission continues to function normally to provide all services to Indian nationals in Ukraine.

The US and its Western allies have been severely critical of Russia over its continuing build-up of forces near the Ukraine border.

The US has already sent extra troops to Europe to support its allies in the backdrop of fears of a Russian invasion of Ukraine.

Russia has positioned around 100,000 troops near its border with Ukraine besides sending warships into the Black Sea for naval exercises, triggering concerns among the NATO countries about a potential Russian invasion of Ukraine.

Russia has been denying that it plans to invade Ukraine.

Hijab row: Karnataka set to crack down on outfits disturbing peace

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 15 February

A day ahead of reopening of pre-university colleges in Karnataka, which were shut due to protests over wearing of Hijab inside classrooms, state Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said authorities have been directed to identify and initiate legal action against religious organisations attempting to break the society and corrupt students.

"Some religious organisations are using students to try to divide the society.. Instructions have been given to identify them and initiate appropriate legal action against them," the minister said in a statement.

He claimed that not all but a few students were insisting that they be allowed to go to the school wearing Hijab.

"In my view it is not their (students) natural view. We all must respect the interim order of the Karnataka High Court and act accordingly," Jnanendra said.

The high court in its interim order relating to the Hijab issue has restrained students from attending classes wearing headscarves or saffron scarves.

Jnanendra also noted that safety measures have been taken to ensure peace and order in the state so that students attend classes without any hindrance.

He requested the students to engage in their academic activities without any fear.

Meanwhile, Congress legislator and its deputy leader in the Assembly, U T Khader, during the zero hour, expressed concern over "confusion and interpretation" of the court order, during its implementation on ground.

The MLA, citing the interim order, said, "when the court order is regarding the colleges, it is being implemented at schools, even at the primary school level, so a confusion has been created." He also said that, while the order is regarding students' dress code, it is being wrongly interpreted and even teachers and staff are not being permitted to wear headscarfs, creating a confusion.

The state government responded that it was committed to implementing the high court's interim order.

Rural UP sees over 7% inflation in Jan

Close to 6% in state's urban areas; Punjab, Manipur have lower inflation rates

INDIVIDUAL DHASMANA
New Delhi, 15 February

Parts of Uttar Pradesh, the whole of Manipur and Punjab are yet to go to the polls. Among these states, while UP had a higher retail price inflation rate than the national average in January, the two other states witnessed lower rates.

In UP, rural areas saw much higher inflation rates than the national rate for such areas. Villages of UP recorded an inflation rate of 7.23 per cent, against the national level of 6.12 per cent. However, urban areas in the state recorded a rate of 5.84 per cent, slightly lower than the national average of 5.91 per cent, showed official data released on Monday.

Overall, the inflation rate in UP was 6.71 per cent, against 6.01 per cent at the all-India level in January. On the other hand, Manipur and Punjab had much lower inflation rates than the national average.

In Punjab, the overall inflation rate was 4.09 per cent, broken up into 4.47 per cent in rural and 3.52 per cent in urban areas. Manipur had just 0.84 per cent inflation in January.

If all states are taken into consideration, three states – Haryana, West Bengal and Telangana – had higher inflation rates than UP in January. Haryana witnessed a 7.23 per cent rate of price rise, West Bengal 7.11 per cent, and Telangana 6.72 per cent.

These three states are run by three different parties – the Bharatiya Janata Party, the Trinamool Congress, and the Telangana Rashtra Samithi. This shows that high inflation may be due to state-specific issues.

Generally, people are bothered about price movement of items in the immediate past, but if we consider a longer period, the picture on inflation changes a lot. For instance, the inflation rate was not low in Manipur in March 2021. It stood at 5.5 per cent, against the all-India level of 5.52 per cent.

Similarly, UP had quite a low inflation rate in January 2021 at 2.06 per cent, almost half the 4.06 per cent at the all-India level.

Punjab had an inflation rate of 6.28 per cent in June 2021, which was a tad higher than the national average of 6.26 per cent. In the next four months, Punjab saw an inflation rate that was much higher than the all-India level (see chart).

The question that arises when non-economic issues such as the Hijab controversy, which emanated in Karnataka that is not poll-bound, divided the polity in the poll-bound states such as Uttar Pradesh, does inflation play any part in deciding the verdict?

No, says Madan Sabnavis, chief economist of the Bank of Baroda.

"State elections have shown in the past that macroeconomic factors may not really matter and there would be other issues which influence the voting patterns. Therefore, religion and caste play a more important role. Something like inflation, which is generalised, may not matter at the time of voting," he said.

Sabnavis said prices of individual commodities like onions have admittedly brought down governments in the 1970s and '90s, but that is commodity specific.

For instance, skyrocketing onion prices drove the Congress to power in the Delhi Assembly elections in 1998, ousting the BJP government.

He said people identify with local issues more like any new social facility or scheme that involves largesse of the state, which works better.

"That's why several states follow policies like free cycles, sewing machines, heavily subsidised meals, which click

SP promises 1 kg 'ghee', free ration to poor for 5 years

Addressing an election rally in Rae Bareilly, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav on Tuesday promised 1 kg of 'ghee' to the poor along with free ration for five years if his party came to power in Uttar Pradesh, while claiming that the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) government was set to discontinue its own free-ration scheme.

"The poor, who are availing their rations, will get it till the elections. It will not be available after the elections. Earlier it was to be given till November but when the UP elections were announced, they said they would get it till March," Yadav said.

with the voters," Sabnavis pointed out.

For instance, among two main parties in UP, BJP promised free electricity to farmers for irrigation, while Samajwadi Party assured electorate of two LPG cylinders every year to below poverty line (BPL) families, one litre of petrol to all two-wheeler owners, three litres of petrol and six kg of CNG per month to auto-rickshaw drivers.

While Manipur will go to polls on February 28 and March 5, Punjab is scheduled to vote on February 20. UP has already seen voting for two phases on February 10 and 14. The next five phases are spread from February 20 and March 7. The results will be declared on March 10.
